

2021 Leadership and Faculty Development Program Conference

Career Development Training

Friday, May 6, 2022

Career development training sessions provide Harvard Medical School (HMS) and Harvard School of Dental Medicine (HSDM) junior faculty, clinical fellows, and research fellows, and administrators with information and skills needed for professional and career advancement in academic medicine, and specifically advancement within the Harvard Medical School community. These sessions are open to HMS and HSDM faculty, trainees, administrators, and health policy alumni fellows only.

9:30 am

Opening Welcome Remarks

Joan Y. Reede, MD, MPH, MS, MBA

Dean, Diversity and Community Partnership; Professor of Medicine,
Harvard Medical School

Professor of Society, Human Development and Health, Harvard T.H.
Chan School of Public Health

9:35 am—11:30 am

“Communication as an Essential Leadership Skill”

Over our lives we’ve each developed a preference for how we like to communicate and interact with people. This style impacts how we set up and run our teams, enact leadership, and contribute in our organizations. Challenges arise when we are communicating across different styles, potentially leading to misunderstandings and misinterpretations. Prior to this session participants will complete an online diagnostic. This self-knowledge becomes the basis for becoming effective when interacting with people who have different rules. The workshop will focus on strategies for improved effectiveness.

Presenter:

Mary Shapiro, MBA

Professor of Practice

Organizational Behavior Management

Simmons University
